Another Compatibility Solution: Bar Kits for Popular Yetter Fertilizer Coulters

Yetter Farm Equipment's popular 2995 Fertilizer Coulters will mount more easily to industry-leading front-fold planter brands with the new 2995 Bar Kits. These kits join the already large selection of bar kits and pusher bars available from Yetter.

Recent changes to the design of John Deere, White, and Case planters resulted in the timely design of the 2995 Bar Kits, yet another mounting solution from Yetter. The bar kits allow fertilizer coulters to be installed on the front of these hard-to-fit planters.

"Our goal is to make sure our producers have options to retrofit our long-lasting attachments if they purchase a new piece of equipment with new or existing coulters," said Yetter AOR Manager Jeff Wherley. "Producers have ordered several thousand 2995 Fertilizer Coulters from Yetter since 1994. Now, these producers can upgrade their planting equipment without worrying about whether their coulters will still fit."

"Yetter makes more bar kits to fit more planters than any other company in the industry," added Wherley.

The compatibility bar kits are easy to install and their addition will not interfere with the performance of the planter. Bar kits are available for 4-row through 24-row planters.

Yetter 2995 Bar Kits are designed to help achieve precise fertilizer placement in no- and minimum-till conditions. The compatible 2995 Coulters are available with CAD-tip rear knife or spring injection for liquid or dry fertilizer placement.
