Safety Is No Accident

The following safety instructions, combined with common sense, will save your equipment from needless damage and the operator from unnecessary exposure to personal hazard. Pay special attention to the caution notes in the text. Review this manual at least once a year with all operators.

1. Read and understand the operator's manual before operating this machine. Failure to do so is considered a misuse of the equipment.
2. Make sure equipment is secure before operating.
3. Always keep children away from equipment when operating.
4. Make sure everyone that is not directly involved with the operation is out of the work area before beginning operation.
5. Make sure all safety devices, shields, and guards are in place and functional before beginning operation
6. Shut off all power to adjust, service, or clean.
7. Keep hands, feet, and clothing away from moving parts. It is a good idea to remove all jewelry before operating.
8. Inspect the machine periodically during operation for signs of excessive wear, loose fasteners, and unusual noises.
